MEMORANDUM FOR: James H. Taylor
Executive Director, Central Intelligence Agency

SUBJECT: Appreciation for Support on the FSCS Phase III Study

1. The recently completed FSCS Phase III study marks a milestone in SIGINT Committee work. It has been accepted by the DDCI for use by the Intelligence Community in planning future SIGINT capabilities. As such it represents a significant accomplishment as we strive to assure future collection capabilities in an era of increasing intelligence needs and changing technology.

2. Many individuals from your organization made valuable contributions to this study. Their efforts in representing the CIA were important not only to the results of the study but also in fostering a spirit of cooperation throughout the SIGINT community.

3. The personnel listed in the attachment are to be commended for their work in supporting the study, in developing and coordinating the FSCS tasks, in playing key leadership roles on the FSCS Utility Assessment Team (UAT) effort, and in conducting the driving factors analysis and generation of initiatives. Without their personal initiative, substantive background, and professional expertise this study could not have been done.
